The Development

Wakeland Price UB Apartments is a proposed 60-unit, transit-oriented, new construction, affordable housing development, located on a 31,844-square-foot lot that incorporates 4390 University Ave. and 4038 44th Street, San Diego, CA 92105. The development is a partnership between Wakeland Housing and Development Corporation (Wakeland), an experienced San Diego-based developer of affordable housing, and Price Philanthropies, a San Diego-based, family philanthropy focused on improving the lives of City Heights residents. A vacant commercial building sits on one of the subject lots (4390 University Ave.), which will be demolished as part of the development.

Once completed, Wakeland Price UB Apartments will comprise 60 rental units in a single, wood-frame structure, sitting atop a first-floor concrete and steel parking structure. The development will continue Price Charities' focus on larger units, with bedroom accommodations for the larger family sizes common in San Diego's center city. Forty-five of the units will be two-bedroom, and the remaining 15 will be three-bedroom units. Of the 60 total units, 59 will remain affordable for 55 years to low- and extremely low-income families with income between 30 percent and 60 percent of the San Diego Area Median Income (AMI). Construction types will be Type 1 concrete and steel beam on the first floor, with the upper four levels composed of Type VA wood-frame construction.

On-site amenities will include a 1,510-square-foot resident's lounge and community space, full kitchen, computer lab space, laundry room, and a 650-square-foot outdoor recreational space that will feature barbecue pits, outdoor seating, covered by shade trellises in full view of the laundry room and second-floor units. The developer is taking extra care when designing the property. The children's play area/structure will have seating just outside the laundry room so adults can see kids playing while doing laundry. The BBQ area is also visible from the kids play area/structure and has a shade trellis and seating so the space can be as interactive as possible. Planters with seating walls are along the perimeter of the recreational areas and throughout the walkways accessing units. The planters will serve the purpose of providing green space and many will also collect and filter storm water as part of the overall drainage engineering for the site.

The project site is located near the intersection of Fairmount and University Avenue, in the heart of City Heights. Within a 10-minute walk are The Price Charities Building, a seven-story office complex, the County of San Diego Administration Building and multiple nonprofit and public agencies providing medical, dental, youth-oriented, public benefit supports and other services to households with low or moderate income. Nearby amenities include multiple restaurants, grocery stores, pharmacy options, the La Maestra Community Health Clinic, Rosa Park Elementary School, The City Heights Recreational Center, and the public library.

Because of the development is within a Transit Priority Area, the developers are encouraging residents to take advantage of the site's close proximity to several major bus lines, including the San Diego Metropolitan Transit System's (MTS) Rapid I-15 service, and incorporate mass transit as part of their transportation plans.

Wakeland plans to provide 54 parking spaces (exceeding regulatory requirements) in response to local community input and requests.

Project Sustainability

Wakeland Price UB Apartments will be built as Green Point Rated with an anticipated Gold Rating standard and will comply with the CTCAC minimum energy efficiency construction standards for new construction. The project's features will include: Energy Star-rated efficient appliances, dual-glazed windows coated for limited solar heat gain, low-energy lighting, HVAC systems that utilize energy efficient heat pumps, use of Low Volatile Organic Compound (VOC) paints and stains for interior surfaces, and the roof design is focused on optimizing square footage to allow maximum area to install the Solar Photovoltaic system. The designed Solar Photovoltaic system is intended to offset the house load, including all or part of domestic hot water. Water conservation will be promoted via low-water-use fixtures in kitchens and bathrooms, low-flow toilets, and low-water- use native-plants landscaping with water-efficient irrigation controls

Development Team

The development team will be led by Wakeland, a nonprofit developer founded in San Diego in 1998. The project sponsor is Wakeland Price UB LP, whose managing general partner is Wakeland Price UB LLC, a subsidiary of Wakeland.

Wakeland currently has more than 5,600 units of affordable housing in its portfolio in 40 communities throughout California. The Housing Commission has worked with Wakeland on several successful projects. Recently completed projects include the 44-unit Beacon Apartments, 205-unit Atmosphere apartments, and the 132-unit scattered sites City Heights Ten rehabilitation project.

A Developer Disclosure Statements for Wakeland is provided as Attachment 3.

Wakeland plans to use Dess Partners as the architects and Sun Country Builders as the general contractor. Dess Partners is an architecture firm with a proven track record of completing multifamily residential, mixed-use, commercial, and historic infill developments in San Diego. Recent projects include Kalos Apartments and the 10th and B project. Founded in 1979, Sun Country Builders is an experienced, Carlsbad-based builder of multifamily housing. They are a frequent general contractor partner for affordable housing developers across Southern California and have extensive experience working with low-income housing tax credits and tax-exempt bond-financed developments.

Union Bank Apartments will be managed by ConAm Management Corporation (ConAm). Established in 1975, ConAm is a nationwide management company with a management portfolio of approximately 53,000 units in more than 26 metropolitan areas. ConAm is experienced in property management, marketing, leasing, maintenance, renovations, and tax credit developments. ConAm manages 34 developments for CHW. CHW's Asset Management Department will oversee ConAm

Other members of the development team, including the administrative general partner, the tax credit investor, any limited partners and the construction lender, will be determined prior to final authorization and the close of construction financing, as required.

The Wakeland Price UB Apartments development has an estimated total development cost of $32,318,795. Financing for the project will include Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds, private bank debt, 4 percent federal low-income housing tax credits, a land donation from Price Charities, and a $13,050,000 charitable contribution from Price Charities.

No Housing Commission loan proceeds will be provided to this development.

Estimated permanent sources and uses of financing are provided in Table 3. The developer's project pro forma is provided as Attachment 4.

Developer Fee

The planned net cash developer fee shall be $1,400,000 in compliance with CTCAC and CDLAC regulations. On April 25, 2017, the Housing Authority approved the "Request for Approval of Updated Developer Fees" (Report No. HAR17-011; Resolution No. HA-1727). That report approved certain developer fee guidelines for multifamily loans and bond issuances. Attachment 1 to that report stated: "Developer Fee [for] 4% tax credits, in project costs: 15% eligible basis...." The developer is proposing a $2,840,281 preliminary developer fee associated with the residential portion of development, which complies with HAR17-011. The proposed fee is in conformance with the "Request for Approval of Updated Developer Fees" guidelines approved by the Housing Authority on April 25, 2017.

Prevailing Wages

The proposed project is not subject to payment of state or federal prevailing wages.

Development Cost Key Performance Indicators

Housing Commission staff has identified development cost performance indicators, which were used to evaluate the proposed development. The key performance indicators listed in Table 4 are commonly used by real estate industry professionals and affordable housing developers.

| Development Cost Per Unit | $32,318,795 ÷ 60 units | $538,647 |
|--------------------------------------|--------------------------|-----------|
| Housing Commission Subsidy Per Unit | N/A | 0 |
| Acquisition Cost Per Unit | $3,642,000 ÷ 60 units | $60,700 |
| Gross Building Square Foot Hard Cost | $20,542,613 ÷ 90,844 SF | $226 |
| Net Rentable Square Foot Hard Cost | $20,542,613 ÷ 53,195 SF | $386 |

Table 4 – Key Performance Indicators

Project Comparison Chart

Multiple factors and variables influence the cost of developing multifamily affordable housing, including but not limited to project location, site conditions, site improvements needed, environmental factors, land use approval process, community involvement, construction type, design requirements/constraints, economies of scale, City impact fees, developer experience and capacity, and amenities necessary to gain tax credit approval.

Table 5 shows a comparison of the subject property and other developments of the same construction type.

| Project Name | Year | Construction Type | Units | Prevailing Wage | Total Development Cost (TDC) | TDC per unit | SDHC Subsidy per Unit | Gross Building Cost per Square Foot |
|---|------|----------------------|-------|--------------------|------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------------------|---|
| Wakeland Price UB Apartments (Subject) | 2020 | V over I | 60 | No | $32,318,795 | $538,647 | $0 | $226 |
| East Block Family | 2019 | III | 78 | Yes | $41,579,692 | $533,073 | $0 | $214 |
| Keeler Court | 2019 | V | 71 | Yes | $40,891,780 | $575,941 | $0 | $304 |
| Ulric Street II | 2020 | V | 60 | Yes | $32,044,521 | $533,409 | $67,917 | $301 |

 Table 5 – Comparable Development Projects

Factors having an upward effect on the residential cost per unit for Wakeland Price UB Apartments include higher construction costs tied to its infill location within a dense urban area, the relatively large size of the units (150 square feet larger than TCAC minimums), greater than average number of bedrooms per unit, and parking accommodations that exceed regulatory requirements to address community concerns. Despite these factors, the gross building hard cost per square foot compares favorably with similar recent developments.

Proposed Housing Bonds

The Housing Commission utilizes the Housing Authority's tax-exempt borrowing status to pass on lower interest rate financing (and make 4 percent low-income housing tax credits available) to developers of affordable rental housing. The Housing Authority's ability to issue bonds is limited under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. To issue bonds for a development, the Housing Authority must first submit an application to CDLAC for a bond allocation. Prior to submitting applications to CDLAC, developments are brought before the Housing Commission, Housing Authority and City Council. Housing Authority bond inducement resolutions must be obtained prior to application submittal, and City Council TEFRA resolutions must be secured no later than 30 days after application submittal. These actions do not obligate the Housing Authority to issue bonds.

The developer plans to submit a bond allocation application to CDLAC in November 2020 for a January 2021 bond allocation meeting; however, if necessary, staff will submit additional applications to CDLAC to secure a bond allocation for the development.

The developer will be seeking a CDLAC bond allocation of approximately $23,500,000. The developer proposes to have the Housing Authority issue the bonds through a tax-exempt private placement bond issuance. The bonds will meet all requirements of the Housing Commission's Multifamily Housing Revenue Bond Program policy and will fully comply with the City of San Diego's (City) ordinance on bond disclosure.

The developer proposes that the bonds will be used to provide construction and permanent financing for the project. Housing Commission staff will later return to both the Housing Commission and Housing Authority for approval of the final bonds and transaction documents. A general description of the Multifamily Housing Revenue Bond Program and the actions that must be taken by the Housing Authority and by the City Council to initiate and finalize proposed financings are described in Attachment 5.

Staff recommends assigning Squire Patton & Boggs as Bond Counsel and Ross Financial as Financial Advisor to work on the development. The proposed financing team members have been selected in accordance with the existing policy for the issuance of bonds. Financial Advisors and Bond Counsels are selected in accordance with the Housing Commission's Bond Policy.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING IMPACT

Under the proposed bond financing, Wakeland Price UB Apartments would restrict six units to households with income at or below 30 percent of the San Diego Area Median Income (AMI), 12 units at or below 45 percent of AMI, 24 units at or below 50 percent of AMI, and the remaining 17 affordable units at or below 60 percent of AMI. The affordable units will be restricted for a 55-year term.

Development Schedule

The estimated development timeline is as follows.

| Milestone | Date |
|--|-------------------|
| Housing Authority Preliminary Bond Authorization and City Council TEFRA hearing | November 10, 2020 |
| TCAC/CDLAC application | January 2021 |
| Housing Commission Final Bond Authorization | February 2021 |
| Housing Authority Final Bond Authorization | February 2021 |
| Start Construction | July 2021 |
| Complete Construction | December 2022 |

FISCAL CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed funding sources and uses approved by this action are not included in the Fiscal Year (FY) 2021 Housing Commission Budget. Approving this action will increase the FY 2021 total budget.

Funding sources approved by this action will be as follows: Bond Issuance Fees - $63,500 (0025 bond issuer fee x $25,400,000)

Funding uses approved by this action will be as follows: Administration Costs - $63,500

Approval of the bond inducement and TEFRA resolutions does not commit the Housing Authority to issue the bonds. The bonds would not constitute a debt of the City. If bonds are ultimately issued for the development, the bonds will not financially obligate the City, the Housing Authority or the Housing Commission because security for the repayment of the bonds will be limited to specific private revenue sources of the development. Neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the City or the Housing Authority would be pledged to the payment of the bonds. The developer is responsible for the payment of all costs under the financing, including the Housing Commission annual administrative fee, as well as Housing Commission Bond Council and Financial Advisor fees.

COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION and PUBLIC OUTREACH EFFORTS

As required by the Housing Commission Bond Program, the developer must present their proposal for Wakeland Price UB Apartments to local community boards for review. The developer will present the development to the City Heights Area Planning Committee prior to seeking final bond authorization.

KEY STAKEHOLDERS and PROJECTED IMPACTS

Stakeholders include Wakeland Housing and Development Corporation, Price Charities, and the residents of the City Heights communities. The project is anticipated to have a positive impact on the community, as it will contribute to the quality of the surrounding neighborhood and create 59 new affordable rental homes for low-income families.

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW

This activity is not a "project" and is therefore not subject to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) pursuant to State CEQA Guidelines Section 15060(c)(3). This determination is predicated on Section 15004 of the Guidelines, which provides direction to lead agencies on the appropriate timing for environmental review. This action does not constitute approval of a project. Approval will occur once the environmental review has been completed in accordance with CEQA Section 15004. This action will not foreclose review of alternatives or mitigation measures by the public as part of the CEQA process. The proposed actions are approval of preliminary steps to issue bonds and do not constitute approval of the development activity or authorization for the issuance of bonds. Future actions to consider and approve development entitlement approvals related to the future development of the site will require additional review under the provisions of CEQA by the lead agency. Processing under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) is not required as no federal funds are involved in this action.

HOUSING COMMISSION MULTIFAMILY HOUSING REVENUE BOND PROGRAM SUMMARY

General Description: The multifamily housing bond program provides below-market financing (based on bond interest being exempt from income tax) for developers willing to set aside a percentage of project units as affordable housing. Multifamily housing revenue bonds are also known as "private activity" bonds because the projects are owned by private entities, often including nonprofit sponsors and for-profit investors.

Bond Issuer: Housing Authority of the City of San Diego. There is no direct legal liability to the City, the Housing Authority or the Housing Commission in connection with the issuance or repayment of bonds. There is no pledge of the City's faith, credit or taxing power nor of the Housing Authority's faith or credit. The bonds do not constitute a general obligation of the issuer because security for repayment of the bonds is limited to specific private revenue sources, such as project revenues. The developer is responsible for the payment of costs of issuance and all other costs under each financing.

Affordability: Minimum requirement is that at least 20% of the units are affordable at 50% of Area Median Income (AMI). Alternatively, a minimum of 10% of the units may be affordable at 50% AMI with an additional 30% of the units affordable at 60% AMI. The Housing Commission requires that the affordability restriction be in place for a minimum of 15 years. Due to the combined requirements of state, local, and federal funding sources, projects financed under the Bond Program are normally affordable for 30-55 years and often provide deeper affordability levels than the minimum levels required under the Bond Program.

Rating: Generally "AAA" or its equivalent with a minimum rating of "A" or, under conditions that meet IRS and Housing Commission requirements, bonds may be unrated for private placement with institutional investors (typically, large banks). Additional security is normally achieved through the provision of outside credit support ("credit enhancement") by participating financial institutions that underwrite the project loans and guarantee the repayment of the bonds. The credit rating on the bonds reflects the credit quality of the credit enhancement provider.

Approval Process:

- Inducement Resolution: The bond process is initiated when the issuer (Housing Authority) adopts an "Inducement Resolution" to establish the date from which project costs may be reimbursable from bond proceeds (if bonds are later issued) and to authorize staff to work with the financing team to perform a due diligence process. The Inducement Resolution does not represent any commitment by the Housing Commission, Housing Authority, or the developer to proceed with the financing.
- TEFRA Hearing and Resolution (Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982): To assure that projects making use of tax-exempt financing meet appropriate governmental purposes and provide reasonable public benefits, the IRS Code requires that a public hearing be held and that the issuance of bonds be approved by representatives of the governmental unit with jurisdiction over the area in which the project is located (City Council). This process does not make the City financially or legally liable for the bonds or for the project.

[Note: It is uncommon for the members of the City Council to be asked to take two actions at this stage in the bond process---one in their capacity as the City Council (TEFRA hearing and resolution) and another as the Housing Authority (bond inducement). Were the issuer (Housing Authority) a more remote entity, the TEFRA hearing and resolution would be the only opportunity for local elected officials to weigh in on the project.]

- Application for Bond Allocation: The issuance of these "private activity bonds" (bonds for projects owned by private developers, including projects with nonprofit sponsors and for-profit investors) requires an allocation of bond issuing authority from the State of California. To apply for an allocation, an application approved by the Housing Authority and supported by an adopted inducement resolution and by proof of credit enhancement (or bond rating) must be filed with the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee (CDLAC). In addition, evidence of a TEFRA hearing and approval must be submitted prior to the CDLAC meeting.
- Final Bond Approval: The Housing Authority retains absolute discretion over the issuance of bonds through adoption of a final resolution authorizing the issuance. Prior to final consideration of the proposed bond issuance, the project must comply with all applicable financing, affordability, and legal requirements and undergo all required planning procedures/reviews by local planning groups, etc.
- Funding and Bond Administration: All monies are held and accounted for by a third party trustee. The trustee disburses proceeds from bond sales to the developer in order to acquire and/or construct the housing project. Rental income used to make bond payments is collected from the developer by the trustee and disbursed to bond holders. If rents are insufficient to make bond payments, the trustee obtains funds from the credit enhancement provider. No monies are transferred through the Housing Commission or Housing Authority, and the trustee has no standing to ask the issuer for funds.

Bond Disclosure: The offering document (typically a Preliminary Offering Statement or bond placement memorandum) discloses relevant information regarding the project, the developer, and the credit enhancement provider. Since the Housing Authority is not responsible in any way for bond repayment, there are no financial statements or summaries about the Housing Authority or the City that are included as part of the offering document. The offering document includes a paragraph that states that the Housing Authority is a legal entity with the authority to issue multifamily housing bonds and that the Housing Commission acts on behalf of the Housing Authority to issue the bonds. The offering document also includes a paragraph that details that there is no pending or threatened litigation that would affect the validity of the bonds or curtail the ability of the Housing Authority to issue bonds. This is the extent of the disclosure required of the Housing Authority, Housing Commission, or the City. However, it is the obligation of members of the Housing Authority to disclose any material facts known about the project, not available to the general public, which might have an impact on the viability of the project.
