For the Agenda of February 9, 2023

SUBJECT: Multifamily Bond Program – Annual Status Report Calendar Year 2022

COUNCIL DISTRICT: Citywide

NO ACTION IS REQUIRED ON THE PART OF THE HOUSING COMMISSION

SUMMARY

This report summarizes activity under the San Diego Housing Commission's (Housing Commission) Multifamily Bond Program (Bond Program) for the year ending December 31, 2022. During calendar year 2022, the Bond Program issued $95,287,135 in tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds to provide financing for four affordable rental housing developments. At the end of 2022, the Housing Commission's Bond Program administered (including new issues) 76 projects with 9,794 units, including 8,442 units restricted at various levels of affordability (Attachment 1).

BACKGROUND

The interest income from tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds issued by the Housing Authority of the City of San Diego (Housing Authority) for eligible affordable rental housing developments is exempt from state and federal income taxes. The Bond Program uses this tax-exempt status to offer below-market financing to developers of affordable multifamily rental housing. The issuance of tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds qualifies projects for competitive allocations of federal tax credits. Eligible projects for tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds include new construction and acquisition/rehabilitation projects located in the City of San Diego.

The bonds do not constitute a financial liability of the City of San Diego, the Housing Authority, or the Housing Commission. The security for bond repayment is limited to specific private revenue sources, such as project revenues, guarantees by credit providers, or the value of the projects themselves. Neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the City or the Housing Authority is pledged to the payment of the bonds. The developer is responsible for the payment of all costs under the financing, including the Housing Commission issuance fee and annual administrative fee, as well as Housing Commission Bond Counsel and Financial Advisor fees.

DISCUSSION

The following is a description of the actions that must be taken by the Housing Commission, Housing Authority, and the City Council to initiate and complete financings.

1. Bond Inducement

The adoption of an Official Intent Resolution (bond inducement) is the initial step the Internal Revenue Service requires to initiate a possible new-money bond issuance. It does not represent a commitment by the Housing Commission, Housing Authority, or the project sponsor to proceed with the financing. Rather, it establishes through public record the date from which project costs incurred may be reimbursed from bond proceeds. Generally, the bond inducement amount is higher than the estimated bond amount to reflect a 5 to 10 percent contingency to provide for increases in development costs and fluctuations in interest rates. The adoption of a bond inducement resolution also authorizes staff to work with a selected financing team (Financial Advisor and Bond Counsel) to determine the feasibility of the financing, structure a proposal for the issuance of bonds, and submit an application to the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee (CDLAC) for an allocation of bond issuing authority.

2. TEFRA Hearing and Approval

For the interest on the bonds to be tax-exempt, and in compliance with the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act (TEFRA) of 1982 and Section 147(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, the bond issuance must be approved by the governmental body with jurisdiction over the project's location. A public hearing, with reasonable public notice, is required prior to the approval. The Housing Commission Board of Commissioners is authorized to hold TEFRA hearings pursuant to Multifamily Mortgage Revenue Bond Program Policy Amendments the Housing Authority approved March 9, 2021 (Report No. HAR20-043; Resolution No. HA-1906). A notice of the Housing Commission meeting on the proposed issuance of bonds is published on the "Public Notices" section of the City of San Diego City Clerk's website at least seven days prior to the scheduled meeting. The purpose of the TEFRA hearing is to provide the public with an opportunity to give their views on the proposed bond issuance and on the nature and location of the project. The elected legislative body for the City of San Diego, the City Council, must approve the issuance of bonds by the Housing Authority.

3. Bond Allocation

The issuance of bonds for projects proposed by private developers (i.e., projects owned by private for-profit developers or by nonprofit sponsors with for-profit investor participation – "private activity bonds") requires an allocation of bond issuance authority from the State of California. To apply for a bond allocation, an application by the Housing Authority must be filed with CDLAC. The application must be supported by an adopted bond inducement resolution and proof of credit enhancement and/or a lender commitment to purchase the bonds.

4. Final Bond Approval

The Housing Authority retains absolute discretion over the issuance of bonds by the adoption of a final resolution authorizing the issuance. Initially, the information about the proposed tax-exempt financing of the project is preliminary. If the inducement and TEFRA resolutions are approved, staff and financing team members conduct a due diligence process that will generate additional information and analysis. Before the Housing Authority's final consideration of the proposed bond issuance, the project will need to comply with all of the program's financing and affordability requirements and undergo all required planning procedures/reviews by local planning groups.

PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION

The Housing Commission administers a portfolio of 76 bond issuances currently totaling $1,986,783,235 (Attachment 1). Primarily these functions involve monitoring the affordable income and rent restrictions, administering fee monitoring, and providing certain post-issuance compliance monitoring and reporting as required by CDLAC and other reporting agencies. Other activities include periodic selection of financial consultants, reviewing project transfers and credit facility transfers or extensions, coordinating bond requirements on bond expirations and bond re-fundings, reviewing/approving bond payoffs, overseeing bond requirements with ownership transfers, and providing technical assistance to affordable housing developers. The Housing Commission's origination fee for each financing under the Multifamily Bond Program is 0.25 percent of the bond issuance amount or as allowed by Internal Revenue Service regulations. The Housing Commission's annual administrative fee is 0.125 percent of the outstanding bond balance amount, not to exceed $62,500, or as allowed by Internal Revenue Service regulations. These fees pay for ongoing compliance monitoring and bond program administration.

CALENDAR YEAR 2022 PROGRAM ACTIVITIES:

During calendar year 2022, the program provided $95,287,135 in multifamily tax-exempt bond financing for four affordable rental housing developments, as compared to $58,565,000 issued in 2021 for three affordable rental housing developments. A comparison of recent years' bond issues is as follows:

2022 Bond Issuances Comparison to Prior Years
Years	Multifamily Tax-Exempt Bonds Issued	Number of Affordable Projects	Affordable Units Restricted
2022	$95,287,135	Four	472
2021	$58,565,000	Three	281
2020	$267,066,264	Eight	738
2019	$176,816,996	Five	737
2018	$180,033,124	Seven	907

The Bond Program finances two major types of projects: 1) Bond Re-fundings/Restructurings, and 2) New-Money Issuances.

1. Bond Re-fundings and Restructurings

Bond documents governing individual project financings allow participating developers and credit providers to request reissuance or restructuring of the existing bonds to adjust original terms of the financing in response to the project's new needs or circumstances. Approval to re-fund or restructure is at the discretion of the Housing Authority, as the original issuer. Federal rules for bond re-fundings can be more liberal than those for new-money issuances, depending on when a project was originally financed. Projects financed prior to 1986 are subject to lesser rent and income restrictions than those that currently apply.

In 2022, no bonds were issued to projects engaged in re-fundings or restructurings.

2. New-Money Issuances

To be eligible for tax-exempt multifamily bond financing, federal law requires that projects meet one of the following:

- a. A minimum of 20 percent of the units must be set aside for occupancy by households whose incomes do not exceed 50 percent of the Area Median Income (AMI) as adjusted for family size ($65,050 per year for a family of four during 2022). The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development updates the annual AMI amounts, typically each spring Spring), or

- b. A minimum of 40 percent of the units must be set aside for occupancy by households whose incomes do not exceed 60 percent of AMI ($78,060 for a family of four during 2022), as adjusted for family size.

However, California state law further requires that at least 10 percent of the units be restricted to 50 percent of AMI. As a result, projects financed with tax-exempt bonds must set aside at least 20 percent of the units at 50 percent of AMI or 10 percent of units at 50 percent of AMI and 30 percent of the units at 60 percent of AMI.

Required Set Aside Criteria	Minimum Percent of Units	Percent of AMI	Max Income
Federal Requirement – Alternative #1	20	50 percent	$65,050
Federal Requirement – Alternative #2	40	60 percent	$78,060
Plus State Set-Aside Requirement	10	50 percent	$65,050

The maximum rent for the set-aside units may not exceed 30 percent of monthly income, at the targeted income level, as adjusted for household and unit size. The maximum rent amounts are further reduced by a utility allowance for tenant-paid utilities in the amounts determined periodically (typically each spring) by the Housing Commission. The following are examples of how rents are determined, depending on the type of set-aside selected, for a family of four occupying a three-bedroom unit:

Targeted Income Level	Annual Income	÷ 12	Monthly Income	X 30%	Gross Monthly Rent	-	Estimated Utility Allowance	=	Net Monthly Rent
50% AMI	$65,050		$5,421		$1,515		$100.00		$1,415
60% AMI	$78,060		$6,505		$1,952		$100.00		$1,852

During 2022, all four projects that issued bonds were new-money bond issuances. The new-money issuance projects consist of 478 rental units, 472 of which will be affordable to low- and very low-income households. Descriptions of the projects are provided below. The restricted units in these projects will remain affordable for a minimum of 55 years. Moreover, the applicable rent restrictions for a given project often exceed those of the bond program rents due to the restrictions of other funding sources, such as the State of California’s Tax Credit program.

Levant Senior Cottages – 6950 Levant Street (127 total/126 restricted units), Council District 7

On May 24, 2022, the Housing Authority authorized the issuance of up to $22,877,000 in tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds and $22,000,000 in taxable bonds to finance the new construction of Levant Senior Cottages – a new affordable rental housing development in the Linda Vista neighborhood of San Diego, which will consist of 126 units that will remain affordable for 55 years for seniors with low income, including 70 units for residents selected from the Housing Commission’s Project-Based Housing Vouchers (PBV) waiting list, with income between 25 percent and 50 percent of AMI, and one unrestricted manager unit. Construction is estimated to complete in August 2023.

Merge 56 Apartments – 8201 Merge Avenue (47 total/47 restricted units), Council District 5

On May 24, 2022, the Housing Authority authorized the issuance of up to $16,000,000 in tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Notes and $2,000,000 in taxable notes to fund Merge 56 Affordable, LP's construction of the Merge 56 Affordable Apartments, a new affordable rental housing development in the Torrey Highlands subarea community plan neighborhood of San Diego, which will consist of 47 units that will remain affordable for 55 years for individuals and families earning 30 percent to 60 percent of AMI, including one restricted manager's unit. Construction is anticipated to complete August 2023.

ShoreLINE Apartments - 4470 Alvarado Canyon Rd (126 total/124 restricted units), Council District 7

On December 7, 2021, the Housing Authority authorized the issuance of up to $31,483,880 in tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds and $27,000,000 in taxable bonds to fund Grantville Trolley Family Housing L.P.'s construction of ShoreLINE Apartments, a new affordable rental housing development in the Grantville neighborhood of San Diego, which will consist of 124 units that will remain affordable units for 55 years for individuals and families earning 30 percent to 60 percent of AMI and two unrestricted managers' units. Construction is estimated to complete in November 2023.

Tizon Apartments – 11520 West Bernardo Court (178 total/175 restricted units), Council District 5

On December 14, 2021, the Housing Authority authorized the issuance of up to $24,926,225 in tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds to facilitate the acquisition and renovation of the Tizon Apartments (formerly known as Rancho Bernardo Radisson Hotel Conversion) in the Rancho Bernardo neighborhood of San Diego, which will consist of 175 rental housing units that will remain affordable for 55 years for seniors age 62 and older earning 40 percent to 60 percent of AMI and three unrestricted managers' units. Construction is estimated to complete in March 2023.

Pipeline:

Two of the six projects listed below (Cortez Hill Apartments and The Junipers Apartments) are anticipated to issue bonds in 2023 as they have received allocations from CDLAC in 2022. The remaining projects have either previously submitted and will be resubmitting in 2023 or will be submitting for a competitive bond allocation for the first time in 2023. These developments would produce a total of 679 restricted units that will remain affordable for 55 years.

Project Name	Developer	Estimated Bond Amount	Total Units	Affordable Units	AMI Range
Cortez Hill Apartments	Community HousingWorks	$21,235,500	88	87	30-40%

Expirations and Bond Payoffs:

Periodically, bond-financed developments fulfill their obligations under the Bond Regulatory Agreements through the expiration of affordability restrictions and paying off (redeeming) outstanding bonds. During 2022, one project, Las Serenas, containing 107 affordable units, redeemed bonds. Please see chart below for pay off dates. Although the bonds were paid off, affordability covenants remain in effect for the balance of the affordability term for any property, in accordance with the executed regulatory agreement. Affordability covenants for Las Serenas will remain in effect until February 2063.

Project	# of Affordable Units	Bond Pay off Date
Las Serenas	107	September 2022

Bond Recycling:

On October 5, 2021, the Housing Authority Housing Authority approved the partnership between the Housing Commission, Housing Authority, and the California Housing Finance Agency (CalHFA) to participate in a Tax-Exempt Bond Recycling Program. This partnership was one of the first in the State. Traditionally, an affordable housing project would pay off the majority of its tax-exempt Multifamily Housing Revenue Bonds when the construction phase was completed, and bond-financed construction loan is paid down. At this stage, the bonds are “retired” and no longer available. Recycled bonds allow the reuse of volume cap authority that would otherwise be retired after completion of construction, which has helped alleviate the demand on new private activity bonds, which remain highly competitive. Additionally, CDLAC will award additional points for developer applications that propose to use recycled bonds, giving San Diego projects a competitive advantage over other projects competing statewide for bonds.

A total of 11 projects within the City of San Diego have applied or will be applying for the first time for tax-exempt bonds through CalHFA’s Bond Recycling Program. Of the 11 projects, three were awarded an allocation of bonds through CDLAC at the November 30, 2022, meeting, which are listed in the table below. The projects that were not awarded will be reapplying in 2023 for an allocation.

Project Name	Developer	Total Units	Affordable Units	AMI Range	Status
Modica Apartments (Mt. Etna Campus)	Chelsea Investment Corporation	94	93	30-80%	Awarded and will be closing/starting construction Spring 2023

Totals:		1,411	1,397

Additionally, three projects that had issued bonds in previous years with the Housing Authority recycled bonds during 2022. The total bonds recycled in 2022 were $75,338,983. These bonds will be used to fund the development or preservation of future affordable housing in San Diego or statewide, if the Housing Commission does not have an immediate use for them.

Project Name	Developer	Total Units	Affordable Units	AMI Range	Total Bonds Recycled
Mariner's Village	Housing Development Partners	172	170	40-80%	$19,300,000

FISCAL IMPACT

In 2022, the Housing Commission collected $352,549 in bond issuance fees from the following projects:

Project Name	Issuer Fee
Levant Senior Cottages	$106,398
Merge 56 Apartments	$43,750
ShoreLINE Apartments	$140,085
Tizon Apartments	$62,316
Total	$352,549

Additionally, in 2022 the Housing Commission collected $2,510,707 in annual bond administrative fees. These issuer fees and annual administrative fees are classified as local revenues in the Housing Commission’s budget.

HOUSING COMMISSION STRATEGIC PLAN

This item relates to Strategic Priority Area No. 1 in the Housing Commission’s Strategic Plan for Fiscal Year (FY) 2022-2024: Increasing and Preserving Housing Solutions.

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW

The Multifamily Bond Program – Annual Status Report Calendar Year 2022 is not a project as defined in California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) Section 15378(b)(5) as it is an administrative activity of government that will not result in direct or indirect physical changes in the environment and, therefore is not subject to CEQA pursuant to Section 15060(c)(3) of the State CEQA Guidelines. Processing under the National Environmental Policy Act is not required as no federal funds are involved in this action.
